About Me

I'm an Italian Londoner, a PhD student, writer, freelance journalist, blogger, survivor, pole dance performer, award-winning activist and instructor covered in a variety of publications and focusing on breaking taboos through blogging and dancing.

The Blog

Blogger On Pole was born in 2016 and has since then been covered and mentioned in a variety of news outlets. It's my space to cover travel, food and drink, events, fitness, pole dance, mental health, sex and relationships with my own voice. Through the blog, I won the title of Activist of the Year at the Sexual Freedom awards and constantly campaign for the visibility of women and minorities. Blogger On Pole has a millennial audience of mainly women all across the UK, the USA, Australia and Europe.
